

Camelot Homes offers lock-and-leave luxury Scottsdale Golf Community

The response to our first Villas at Desert Mountain community was incredible, and interest in Villas II has been strong since we added it to our website this month," says Camelot Homes Managing Director and Co-owner Julie Hancock. (Submitted Photos/DigitalFreePress)

Following the success and sellout of Villas at Desert Mountain, Camelot Homes has announced a second phase of their premier lock-and-leave single family detached homes at the prestigious and critically acclaimed Desert Mountain golf community.

The new 23-home Villas II luxury community in North Scottsdale offers award-winning floor plans with all homesites backing No. 7 at Desert Mountain, the USGA-rated, championship par-54, 18-hole golf course that serves as the focal point of the community.

Camelot invites interested buyers to sign up for the interest list at <https://camelothomes.com/community/the-villas-ii/> to be notified when pre-sales open in March.

Villas II will feature two award-winning floor plans designed by architect Robert Hidey. Each plan includes 2 to 3 bedrooms, 2.5 to 3.5 bathrooms, and 2,768 to 3,305 square feet.

Homeowners in the community can choose from three levels of membership at the world-renowned private Desert Mountain Club — subject to Desert Mountain membership approval.

“The response to our first Villas at Desert Mountain community was incredible, and interest in Villas II has been strong since we added it to our website this month,” says Camelot Homes Managing Director and Co-owner Julie Hancock. “With homes set against the gorgeous rolling green hills of the golf course, plus world-class amenities and easy access to recreational opportunities at nearby Tonto National Forest and Bartlett Lake, Villas II offers a truly elevated lifestyle.”
